

LAITH KHALAF, AJ BELL

With a wealth of expertise over a broad range of topics, Laith is well recognised as a leading industry commentator on personal finance, investments and economics.

MAIKE CURRIE, FIDELITY INTERNATIONAL

Maike Currie is a well-recognised commentator, providing insight on topics ranging from pensions to personal finance, investments, interest rates and inflation. A familiar name on television and radio, she is recognised for her pithy and timely comments, spot-on analysis and the warm and engaging way in which she communicates. Maike continues to spearhead a focus on women & money, highlighting the disproportionate impact the pandemic has had on women.

PETE GLANCY, SCOTTISH WIDOWS

Covid-19 derailed people's 2020 and put the retirement plans of many in doubt. Pete Glancy, Head of Policy at Scottish Widows, consistently provided empathetic, practical advice and guidance at a time of national crisis. He reminded the nation of the importance of paying into a pension at an uncertain time.

RACHAEL GRIFFIN, QUILTER

Tax advice and financial planning became hugely sought after in the wake of the pandemic and as a result there was a desire for commentary around these topics. Rachael was effective in quickly analysing and commenting on changes to the tax landscape by providing timely and interesting remarks.

RUSS MOULD, AJ BELL

Russ is one of the most respected and widely quoted investment spokespeople in the industry. With a background as an equity analyst, fund manager and journalist he has a unique blend of stock market expertise and insight into what journalists need.